I am a freelancer who often works on projects requested by a client. I'm mastering the creation, repair, and maintenance of software from Websites, Mobile Apps, Desktop Apps, IoT Platforms and many others. I've completed quite a number of projects of varying degrees of difficulty. My goal is to master more programming languages and techniques in order to complete projects of any difficulty level.

Courses

Application Development Foundation Course — Oct 2022 - Nov 2022
Fresh Graduate Academy

In this training I was taught the fundamentals of making applications and hands-on practice creating website-based applications. This training lasted for about a month with lots of practice assignments and exams that built my horizons.
